

CAUSE OF MISSIONS HEARD IN CHURCHES

Young People's Societies Are Taking Charge of Sunday
Evening Services.

While the activities of many of the Capital churches are at the low ebb of the year just now, the missions are finding plenty to do and are taking advantage of the opportunity to present their cause to many of the local congregations.

At the Maryland Avenue Baptist Church this morning the Rev. F. J. Lukens, superintendent of the Central Union Mission, preached the sermon in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Paul B. Watlington, who, with Mrs. Watlington, is in Richmond for a brief vacation.

Tonight's services there will be in charge of the Christian Endeavor Society, and next Sunday evening there will be an address by Congressman Hamilton of Missouri.

Editor Delivers Sermon.

The practice of turning the summer Sunday evening services over to the young people's societies is steadily growing in the Capital, and some very interesting meetings are the result. At the Potomac M. E. Church the Epworth League will conduct all Sunday evening meetings during August, providing a special speaker for each occasion. The Rev. Dr. William A. Hagerty, the pastor, being out of the city, the sermon there this morning was preached by the Rev. O. J. Randall. The Rev. George C. Hough will deliver the sermon next Sunday morning.

The Rev. Dr. R. H. Pitt, editor of the Religious Herald, of Richmond, was the preacher this morning at the First Baptist Church. Both by reason of his writings and his speeches, Dr. Pitt is widely known in the middle section, especially in Washington, where he is always accorded a hearty welcome. The Rev. W. W. McMaster, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is at present in North Beach, Md., where he is spending his vacation in a tent camp.

Union Services Succeed. "God's Appointments in Man's Disappointments" was the subject of a sermon this morning by the Rev. J. W. Finner, pastor of the First Congregational Church, of Beatrice, Neb., who preached at the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church here. At the First Congregational Church, of Washington, the preacher was the Rev. T. Clayton Welles, of Philadelphia. The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a meeting there this evening at 7 o'clock.

The union services, held on alternate Sunday evenings at the Eckington Presbyterian Church and the United Brethren Church are proving a great success. This evening the meeting will be held on the Eckington lawn at 8 o'clock, and the Rev. Charles E. Pitzer will preach. The Rev. David A. Reed occupied the pulpit of the Eckington Church this morning.

Two Lutheran ministers from other cities were heard in local churches this morning. The Rev. Dr. E. R. McCauley, Altoona, Pa., preached at St. Paul's in the place of the Rev. John T. Huddle, the pastor, and the Lutheran Place Memorial Church pulpit was filled by the Rev. Henry W. Anstadt, of Philadelphia.

Nurse Is Praised

MRS. MARY CORRELL.

Men and women rescued from the Saul building wreck of last week are uniting in saying that a deed of praise ought to be given one person hitherto unmentioned in connection with the storm. This is Mrs. Mary E. Correll, a professional nurse, who was at the scene ten minutes after the building fell. There she remained until all the men and women in the ruins had been taken out. Mrs. Correll gave treatment to the injured under the direction of the doctors.

Mrs. Correll was educated in Roman Catholic schools in the West, and took her professional course in a New Jersey hospital. She is a resident of 811 Sixth street. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gates, live in Georgetown.

STRAIGHT ROBBERY OR PAWNED JEWELS?

That Is Question Which Is Now
Bothering Detectives in Narragansett Case.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Aug. 3.—Despite the announcement of the discovery of the Hanan jewels safe in the possession of a Boston brokerage firm, the authorities believe that the Mrs. C. C. Rumsey $200,000 robbery is a straight robbery, with no attendant complications, and are continuing their investigations although the Hanan search had been abandoned.

The Rumseys, however, are said to have abandoned interest in the case, although Burns detectives have been retained. The loss of upward of $250,000 worth of jewels by Mrs. Ogeon, about two years ago, which was given active attention by the authorities for a long time and then suddenly dropped with no explanation, is now being recalled.

Private detectives are said to have approached Mrs. Hanan in an attempt to show her in detail all the startling discoveries made following the tracing of the jewels to Boston, but she is claimed to have refused to receive them.

Green Gables, the magnificent summer residence of A. B. Lambert, of St. Louis, is now said to have been ransacked, and this, combined with the attempted robbery of the home of Prof. Brander Mathews and another in the home of Fred Mansfield, has started the workings of three different agencies detecting at cross purposes.

The Lambert and Hanan cases are said to have been found by different detective organizations to bear mutual features, and it was rumored today that if the Hanan case had been called off that the Lambert investigation would be treated similarly.
